DuocUC®

Our Mision

To train people in technical and professional areas, with a strong ethical foundation inspired by Christian values, able to operate successfully in workplace and committed to the development of the country.

About Duoc UC

Duoc UC is a non-profit, private institution of higher education. We offer two and a half year Technical Programs and four-year Professional Programs. In 2010, we received a 7 out of 7 years of institutional accreditation from the National Accreditation Agency which certifies the quality of our educational project and its relevance among the higher education institutions in our country.

Only three higher education institutions in Chile have been granted this distinction. Duoc UC is the only Professional institute, alongside with, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile and Universidad de Chile, the most important two Universities in the country, to have ever received this recognition.

We are also part of Learn Chile: a consortium of 23 Chilean higher education institutions that work together, with support from Chilean government to enhance the promotion of Chile as a destination for international students who choose our country to live the experience of studying abroad.

Our History

Duoc UC was founded in 1968 by a group of students at the prestigious Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, with the help of professors and labor unions, to offer training courses for blue-collar workers and farmers that lacked access to university education. In 1973 Fundación Duoc was created to achieve managerial and financial independence from the University, this privatization process was completed in 1974. In 1981 Duoc's Professional Institute and Duoc Technical Training Center were created under the umbrella of this foundation. In 1982 the Ministry of Education recognized the professional institute and in 1983 the technical training center. Duoc UC remains a part of the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile's network.

Our educational model

We focus on a “learn by doing model”, providing our students with state of the art facilities. We have specially invested to improve our infrastructure.

Our educational programs are modular and flexible; therefore they facilitate the inductive methodology and emphasize the practical aspects of the learning process. Our academic project seeks excellence in quality, which implies providing all our students with social, labor and cultural education.

Employability

One of our key focuses is the employability of our graduates, we hold an employability rate of 89,3%

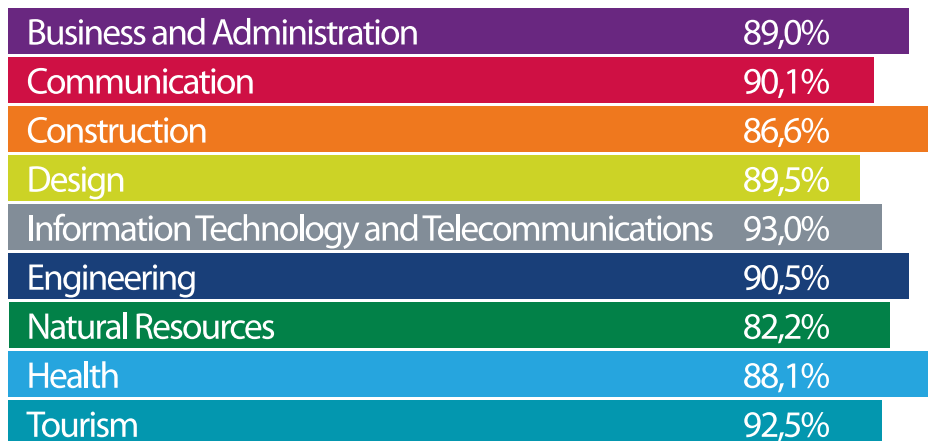

Industry Focused Degrees

For Duoc UC, the value of our technical and professional graduates is measured by their productivity, and thus by their competences. For this reason the development of our curriculum is based on information provided by the industry, with whom, Duoc UC maintains a very close relationship. To ensure that our curriculum stays up to date with labor market needs, our schools have business councils comprised of industry representatives

Furthermore, Duoc UC has developed its own system to collect the needs of the industry; this ensures that our graduates acquire the necessary competences, giving our students remarkable added value when entering the labor market.

International Affairs

The International Affairs Office is responsible for developing programs with foreign institutions, focused on students, alumni, faculty members and staff.

We also offer courses and programs in Chile for international students and faculty.

The internationalization of Duoc UC seeks not only to improve our academic model and educational management but also to help our students improve their academic profile and add value to their résumé. This allows them to perform in a highly competitive world in which they will be faced with the challenge of working with people from diverse cultures and countries.
